COURSE OUTLINE – Fall 2022

EN1201 (A2): Composition and Rhetoric – 3 (3-0-0) 45 Hours for 15 Weeks

Northwestern Polytechnic acknowledges that our campuses are located on Treaty 8 territory, the ancestral and present-day home to many diverse First Nations, Metis, and Inuit people. We are grateful to work, live and learn on the traditional territory of Duncan's First Nation, Horse Lake First Nation and Sturgeon Lake Cree Nation, who are the original caretakers of this land.

We acknowledge the history of this land and we are thankful for the opportunity to walk together in friendship, where we will encourage and promote positive change for present and future generations.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Heather Joyce PHONE: 780-539-2977
OFFICE: C418 E-MAIL: hjoyce@nwpolytech.ca
OFFICE HOURS: Tuesdays 1:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m. and by appointment

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION: This course will help students become more sophisticated users and producers of written texts. Instruction will include basic academic essay-writing skills and the various rhetorical approaches used when addressing specific audiences. The main goals of the course are to help students integrate reading and writing and to become familiar with the conventions of college- (and university-) level writing. This includes producing coherent, logical texts that are relatively free of surface errors. To achieve these goals, the course encourages students to think critically, to read closely and analytically, and to compose responses to a variety of texts, both written and visual.

PREREQUISITE(S)/COREQUISITE: English 30-1, EN0130, or equivalent

REQUIRED TEXT/RESOURCE MATERIALS: All required readings will be posted on myClass (D2L).

DELIVERY MODE(S): This is an on-campus (face-to-face) course. Students are required to attend lectures, participate in class discussions, and complete the assessments listed below.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: This course is designed to develop each student's ability to think critically, read closely, and write proficiently (technically and rhetorically) at the university level. Students will practice translating careful reading into effective writing. By the end of the course, students will be able to describe how works are constructed using specific terminology that pertains to the study of fiction and nonfiction. Students also will be able to construct persuasive argumentative essays, proofread writing for surface errors, and correct most fundamental errors of grammar and punctuation.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

After taking this course, successful students will be able to

- analyze texts through close reading
- express ideas clearly and respond critically to written works through writing
- describe the constituent parts of an effective essay (thesis statement, topic sentence, etc.) and reproduce these elements in their own writings
- recognize and use a range of paragraph structures and patterns
- plan, outline, and draft a piece of writing that develops a specific thesis
- revise a text, adjusting style and content for specific purposes and audiences
- recognize varied rhetorical strategies in a range of texts and employ these strategies in their own writing
- proofread writing for surface errors and correct the majority of these errors

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Students are expected to attend class on campus. Please note that course components (i.e. the final exam) require on-site attendance.
2. Assignments are to be uploaded to myClass (D2L) and submitted directly to me in hard-copy form. I will not accept assignments submitted via e-mail. Assignments will not be considered received until both hard-copy and electronic versions have been submitted.
3. The myClass (D2L) site for this course contains everything you need to be successful. Resist the temptation to go outside of the course to consult literary guides, other websites, etc. All of the work you submit MUST be your own. We will discuss academic integrity in class. Please note students are required to accept the Turnitin user agreement when submitting assignments.
4. It is the student’s responsibility to retain a copy of ALL assignments submitted for grading; in the unlikely event of loss, a duplicate copy must be made available upon request.
5. Written assignments are to be submitted on time. Late assignments will incur a penalty of 5% per day with weekends counting as two days.
6. Extensions will be granted for written assignments in extenuating circumstances. Documentation may be required.

7. Students are required to check the myClass (D2L) site for this course before each class to stay informed.

8. You are more than welcome to contact me via e-mail to ask questions, etc. Please note that you are more likely to receive a quick response if you contact me during regular working hours (Monday to Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.). My response time on weekends will be slower. I will respond to most e-mails within 48 hours (depending on the volume of e-mails I receive). If you have a complicated question or are seeking specific assignment advice (i.e. if you would like me to read drafts, make suggestions regarding essay structure, etc.), you should contact me via e-mail and request to meet.

9. Students should avoid making travel plans until after the exam schedule has been set. The registrar will release the exam schedule during the semester. Alternative examination dates will be considered only in extenuating circumstances. Documentation may be required.

STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING:

Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated and there will be penalties. For a more precise definition of plagiarism and its consequences, refer to the Student Conduct section of the Northwestern Polytechnic Calendar at <https://www.nwpolytech.ca/programs/calendar/> or the Student Rights and Responsibilities policy which can be found at <https://www.nwpolytech.ca/about/administration/policies/index.html>.
