Description:

The course applies the principles learned in OA 1030 to the techniques of writing different types of letters, memos and short reports. It emphasizes oral communication, punctuation and proofreading skills.

Note: This course will help students learn to write and speak for communication “payback” results, with focus on purpose, audience, information, benefits, objections, and context.

Credit/Contact Hours:

3 credits/67.5 contact hours

Delivery Mode(s):

Lecture

Course Outcomes:

The primary outcomes of this course are for students to apply the fundamental grammar skills obtained in OA 1030 to the mechanics of functional writing, as well as to develop teamwork skills through working in groups

Course Objective:

Upon successful completion of the course, students should be able to:

- recognize the importance of careful preparation and planning in all forms of business communications
- correctly apply grammar mechanics and sentence structure to business correspondence:
- write clearly and coherently, including an appropriate level of detail
- present information in a logical sequence
- use language, format and structure suitable for purpose and audience
- ensure written work includes generally accurate punctuation and spelling and that meaning is clear.
- adapt a message to a specific purpose and audience
- describe and correctly apply you-attitude, positive emphasis, and reader-benefits in business communication
- apply the organizational techniques for composing specific forms of effective business letters and memoranda to meet the needs of both the sender and the target audience.

- demonstrate the use of informative, positive, and persuasive communication techniques in both oral & written formats.
- effectively present an analysis of a situation using the “PAIBOC” method, with focus on purpose, audience, information, benefits, objections, and context.
- recognize and demonstrate basic layout and visual conventions of documents applicable to a business environment
